Good Times for the Little Ones.

The book-stores and toy-stores begin to show evidences of the approaching helidays. The windows and shelves are fully stocked with Christmas and New Year's presents, and many a little one will have reason to bless "Santa Claus," the patron saint of youngsters, before another month passes by.

State Teacher's Association.

The Nashville and Decatur Railroad Company, through its officient officers, have with commendable public spirit agreed to pass delegates over their road, at half fare, to the Educational Covnention in Nashville on the 14th December. We have no doubt all the Tennessee roads entering the city will do the same when called upon by the officers of the Association.

Atrocions Murder.

The Greeneville New Ere states that a man named Solomon Collins was murdered near Carter's Station, in that county, a few days ago, having had his throat cut on the right side from the windpipe to the carotid artory. His face was badly mangled, his nose being cut through and a gash extending across his face. The coroners jury have made no report of the case as yet, though one man has been arrested on Alexander Outdone.

Alexander the Great-it is known to those familiar with history, or to temperance men, who have for the last two hundred years held him up as a frigtful example-died from the effects of drinking a mammoth goblet of wine, called the Hercules cup. But the noble Macedonian has been eclipsed by a gentleman in this city, who a day two since celebrated his fortieth birthday by drinking a glass of beer for every year of his life, and, unlike Alexander, he still lives; but then lager isn't so deleterious in its effects

To Our Patrons.

We take this occasion of reminding our putrons, that money is required ot carry on our business. For this reason we cannot further depart from our established rules, of cash in advance for subscriptions and transient advertisements Some of our patrons have suffered their indebtness to run for six months. We trust they will not longer prolong a settlement. Sums due us are generally small, but altogether, it is a matter of importance to us. We don't propose to be excelled in the publication of a first-class newspaper, but in doing so we expect the public to pay us for it.

Business Extension.

Mr. S. T. Atkin is extending his business very largely. On the west side of the creek, nearly opposite his sash and blind factory, he is putting up a saw-mill 70 feet long by 25 in width. in which he will put up a 25-horse power engine. eapable of sawing 10,000 feet of lumber per day. He has also improved the process of kiln-drying by the introduction of a furnace that generates hot sir, passing up through pipes. The furnace is under the side of the building, and the air enters through apertures on each side which passes under and through the bottom of the furnace. The cold air rushing in forces the hot air out, which, being lighter than cold, rapidly rises. The kiln is well ventilated, and is capable of drying every day ten thousand feet of which the citizens of this city are indebted to our Representative, Mr. Maynard, is therefore assured, and we are confident that the selection of this material will result in opening a new and important branch of industry in East Tennessee. The building will be three stories in height, will front 110 feet on Prince street and 66 on Clinch, and will be faced on all sides with marble; it will be fire-proof; the floors supported on brick arches and iron beams; the roof will be of slate; the interior wood-work of hard native wood, finished in oil; the tile and mantles will be of Tennessee marble.

Selection of Stone for the Custom House. THE POOR OF KNOXVILLE.

The Hon. Horace Maynard, Supervising Architect Mullet, Superintendent Wilds and others, paid a visit to the quarries on the East of this city yesterday, and were much pleased with the marbles inspected. A decision to use the Grey, or as it is generally called, the White Marble, for the Post Office building was made, and the quarying and cutting will be proceeded with as soon as arrangements can be completed with the owner of one of the quarries. Mr. W. H. Browning, of Loudon, has been appointed Master Stone Cutter and Mason by Superintendent Wilds, and will proceed at once with the work. The success of this enterprise, for which the citizen of this city are industrial.

will be of Tennessoe marble.

The first story will be devoted exclusively to the Post Office; the second story to the Pension Agents, Internal Revenue, Marshals, District Attorney and Clerk's Offices, and the Chambers of the District and Circuit Judges. The Court Roem, which will be 40 by 60 feet and 24 feet high, the Judges Room, Library, and other necessary Offices, will be in the third story. The entire building will be heated by low-pressure steam, and will be ventilated in the most approved manner, including the system of ridge ventilation, so successfully introduced by the Supervising Architect in the Treasury Building. It is expected that the building will be completed by the Spring of 1873. Its estimated cost is nearly three hundred thousand dollars.

Enoxville Growing,

The best evidence of the steady and substantial growth of Knexville is found in the fact that there are no houses now to be rented. We hear of men who have been for six weeks diligently looking for a house, and who have not been able to rent even one of any size or con-venience. We know now of several families lately arrived who are waiting to find homes. We suggest that some steps be taken to remedy the evil. We are making persistent efforts to induce persons to come to Knoxville to live, but the first inducement to present ought to be cheap, comfortable houses. That there have been very many new houses built this year is patent to every observer, and the fact that with all these additions, houses to rent are not to be found speaks favorably of our growth.

What Good Boads Do.

An exchange truly says: Good roads benefit every one residing along their course. Good roads save horse flesh; they facilitate the transportation of produce to market; they save your temper; they increase the value of your lands; they lend attractiveness to the eye of a stranger; they increase the traffic and business of a town by giving it vitality in all the various branches of trade. Show us a town which receives a large country trade by means of the fine roads leading to it, and we will show you a place that is lively, progressive and thrifty, with money circulating plenty, and men in all branches of industry busy as beavers. These facts are patent, and worthy of the serious thought of our

The ladies of the 2d Presbyterian Church at Rogersville gave to Rev. P. D. We have received through a friend who was present some items of the entertainment, from which we judge that it was just such an one as might have been extra pected to result from the efforts of the ladies and pected to result from the efforts of the ladies and pected to result from the efforts of the ladies and fund. pected to result from the efforts of the ladies and gentlemen of that pleasant town. Meeting at the Court House for the Relief of the Poor. Pursuant to the call published by Mayor John S. Van Gilder, calling a meeting, a large number of citizens assembled at the court house ast night to take steps toward relieving the poor of Knoxyille, who are unable to provide themselves with the necessaries of life, and are forced to depend on charity to avoid actual suf-

On motion of Mr. J. A. Rayl, Mayor Van Gilder was called to the chair, who explained the object of the meeting, in feeling and appropriate terms. There was a great deal of suffering now, and it behoeved those who were able to contribute of their means for the relief of the destitute. In the days of slavery, the colored population were looked after by their masters—they had the best of medical attendance when sick, and were comfortably fed and clothed—now they were dependent upon their own resources, and in consequence a great deal of suffering had occurred among them.

He was in favor of asking county aid for the relief of the poor, and thought the county should be divided into four of five districts embracing three or four civil districts, and the designation of proper persons to ascertain all the cases of distress that might exist, and take steps for their alleviation. After dwelling at some length on the subject, the chairman appointed the follow-ing gentlemen a committee for the city at large receive contributions of money, clothing or

The appointment of secretaries having been overlooked at the organization of the meeting, on motion, the reporters of the press were requested to act as such.

The chairman them appropried the meeting.

The chairman then aunounced the meeting ready for business, whereupon, Mr. Charlton asked that the duties of the committee appointed above be defined, which was done. In addition to receiving and disbursing charities, the committee was instructed to keep an account of everything taken in and given out, in a book, which could be seen at any time on applica-

Rev. Dr. Humes said that as the matter then stood, the duties of the committee was very onerous, and that the gentlemen comprising it could not give the subject the attention it decould not give the student the attention it de-served without seriously neglecting their pri-vate business, and moved the appointment of sub-committees in each ward to assist them, and made a motion to that effect.

Prof. Kirkpatrick endorsed heartly the motion of Dr. Humes, and hoped the names of those appointed on such committees would be published in all the papers of the city.

Dr. Humes accepted the suggestion of Prof.

Kirkpatrick, and the motion as amended was passed.

On motion of Mr. Charlton, a committee of five were appointed by the chair to present the action of the meeting to the County Court at its January session, and ask the assistance of that body. The following gentlemen compose that committee: Dr. J. M. Boyd, Alfred Caldwell. Esq. Dr. T. W. Humes, Mr. T. H. Heald, and Hugh L. McClung, Esq.
Dr. Tadlock made a few remarks. He endorsed all that had been said on the subject, but while the immediate alloviation of suffering was both praiseworthy and necessary at the was both praiseworthy and necessary, set the citizens of Knexville should look beyond cphemeral charity. He looked to something of a permanent nature, and offered a resolution providing the poor with medicine and medical providing the poor with medicine and medicin aid free, where parties were sick and unable to pay doctors' and druggists' bills. A city hos-pital was needed very much, and with the growth of the city the necessity would increase. The resolution was read and elicited much

Dr. McIntosh said he thought the best plan to afford relief was by levying a special tax for the purpose, similar to the poor rate of English towns. It certainly was the most energetic and

. Charlton thought the discussion of the city hospital question was beyond the province of the meeting, which was to organize a plan of immediate relief, besides being a waste of time. A large sum of money would be required to carry out such a plan, and any one working or talking for it would have their labor for their rains. The churcher was the most reserved. talking for it would have their labor for their pains. The churches were the most powerful agents for the alleviation of distress in all its forms, and Christians of all denominations should take the lead in objects of charity. He did not know what others were doing, but the M. E. Church, South, had set about the matter in a systematic style. They employed a female missionary who looked after not only the spiritual, but the temporal wants of the poor in certain localities, whose salary was paid by the ladies' sewing society.

Dr. Boyd said he had the money in his hands as one of the trustees—that the foundation had been built, but no other work done, as the title to the property was in dispute in the Courts.

The vote on the question was then taken and Dr. T.'s resolution laid on the table.

A. Caldwell, Esq., moved that a special tax for the relief of the poor be levied by the City Council, if agreeable to the people, and that a ote be taken on it at the Municipal election. The following gentlemen were appointed by the Chairman to receive donations of money, food, clothing or fuel in their respective wards:

1st Ward—J. C. S. McDannel 2d Ward—M. F. Smith, 3d Ward—C. C. Nelson.

5th Ward—Samuel Nawman.
5th Ward—Benjamin Fahenstock.
6th Ward—George H. Smith.
7th Ward—Pat Sulliyan.
8th Ward—Eli Hixen.

The following were appointed a committee to distribute the articles received :

A Most Delightful Dessert

May be found in the new article of food, SEA Moss FARINE, which can be purchased for twenty-five cents a package, that will produce sixteen quarts of most excellent blanc mange, or a proportionate quantity of custards, light puddings, farina, creams, sauces, graels, Charlotte Russe, &c. This seems almost incredible; but it is vouched for by ladies of the highest respectability, who append their names to their statements. The Company state at least fifty delicious dishes can be made from the Sea Moss Farine, and give in their circular the recipes for many of them. We consider Mr. Rand's discovery a highly important one for the millions, and indeed for all classes of society, in these stringent times.

Railroad Accident.

A slight accident occurred on the Bast Tenseese, Virginia and Georgia Railread four miles this side of Bristol on Sunday. The tender ran off the track, we are told, and ran on again; the express car was thrown from the track and turned over a time or two, to the annoyance of a young man who was making his first trip as Express Messenger. The mishap has discouraged him and he says he don't believe a life on the rail would suit him. He was tooking for a situation as drayman, thinking he might control equines of flesh and blood to better advantage than the iron horse.

The Kuoxville and Louisville Railroad. We learn from prominent railroad officers who have lately visited Louisville that the prospect for the early completion of the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad is very good. Just the moment that our end of the read is relieved of its embarrassments, and the Company is able to make certain exhibits, the road from the Louisville and will be promptly pressed through. The business men of Louisville and the Directors of the Louisville and Nashville Bailroad are determined that their city shall have the advantages the completion of this road will insure DISEASED LUNGS ARE GREATLY ON AN IN-CREASE IN THIS COUNTRY. - The sudden changing of the weather has done much to give rise to Consumption. But there are thousands of cases who bring it on by their own imprudence -such as wearing damp clothing, and going from the warm room into the cold air, and checking the perspiration, which causes irritation of the Lungs, and then matter or phlegm will collect, which nature will try to relieve by coughing it up, to prevent pustules from forming. If nature does not raise the matter with ease, and stop this inflammation, tubercles will soon form, and Consumption will soon follow. Allen's Lung Balsam will cure and prevent thousands of cases of Consumption if it is only taken in time. For sale by all Druggists.

says that Smith, who escaped from the penitontiary some time last August, was recently arrested at Louisville, Ky., where, as we understand, he had been committing some sort of burglary. A requisition, we believe, was made on the Governor of Kentucky, but as it is believed that Smith will be convicted and sentenced in Louisville, the authorities in that city were unwilling to give him up.

Fine Weather.

The weather has been delightful during the week past. The thermometer has averaged about 64". We walked a half mile last night, near midnight, without an overcoat, and found it just comfortable. This is a fair specimen of our East Tennessee December weather. What section of this country can excel it?

Enterprise Successful.

The firm of Esperandieu, Hubert & Co., are now prepared to offer to their patrons good cigars of their own manufacture, made in the best style, and from the best of leaf tobacco. They have good workmen, and are enabled to sell tobaccos and cigars as low as any house in the country. They have fine Havanas which they sell at ten cents. Try them and see for yourself.

"Must be Bead."

We were asked yesterday afternoon if Mr. was dead? our interrogator naming a well known individual. We were surprised at the question, not having heard anything of it. Tribute of Respect.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Tinley, yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church, was very largely attended. In compliance with the published request, a number of business houses were closed, showing the high esteem in which the memory of the deceased was held.

The Directors of the Knoxville and Charles ton Railroad Company met yesterday. Major Tom O'Conner was elected President without opposition. R. H. Campbell, the present incumbent, who has so efficiently discharged his duties during the past year was re-elected Secretary and Treasurer.
